Introduction

Mental Health affects all aspects of a child's development including their cognitive abilities, their social skills as well their emotional well-being. Childhood and teenage years are when mental health is developed and patterns are set for the future. For most children the opportunities for learning and personal development offered at school are exciting and challenging and an intrinsic part of their school experience. However, they can also give rise to anxiety and stress. Children may also suffer anxiety or stress owing to circumstances outside school.

It is important not to label as "mental health" difficulties what are in reality normal emotional reactions to new experiences. However, a number of children may experience emotional or psychological difficulties that without appropriate professional support are more persistent and inhibit their ability to participate fully in school. In addition, some children may arrive at school with a pre-existing psychological difficulty.

Mental health difficulties can seriously impair academic performance and may lead to confused or disturbed behaviour. Minor difficulties that interfere with a child's capacity to work may also result in distress and wasted effort and undermine academic progress.

A more seriously affected child may require a significant level of professional support. Children do suffer from depression. Whilst the suicide rate among teenagers is below that in the general population, young people are vulnerable to suicidal feelings.

Aims of Chancery Education Trust and the Academy Schools

As stated in its Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy, Chancery Education Trust and the Academy Schools are committed to providing a safe and secure environment for pupils and promoting a climate where pupils will feel confident about sharing any concerns, which they may have. We wish them to be happy and thrive whilst at their Academy School and to ensure they acquire the skills necessary for life after school.

Chancery Education Trust is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

We aim to provide a supportive environment that will help pupils who experience mental health difficulties, including helping them to realise their academic and non-academic potential. By providing the opportunity to pursue social, emotional, cultural and sporting fulfilment, in addition to academic excellence, we also aim to facilitate and promote positive mental health and well-being.

Chancery Education Trust and the Academy Schools seek to achieve these aims by:

- ☐ Making reasonable adjustments to policies and procedures which might otherwise unlawfully discriminate against pupils with mental health difficulties
- ☐ Ensuring that the availability of support is accurately represented to both prospective and current pupils and their families
- ☐ Establishing consistent procedures across the Academy Schools within the Trust for helping pupils with mental health difficulties
- ☐ Providing guidance and awareness training to the teaching and other staff involved in the support and care of pupils

Staff Training

Providing guidance and awareness training to the teaching and other staff is paramount to ensure that we are able to provide support and care to pupils. The Designated Mental Health Lead and Designated Mental Health First Aider regularly attend meetings regarding pupils' welfare and family support, for example a TAC meeting. They attend relevant courses to increase understanding and ensure referral routes are best utilised. In addition, in order to provide specific support, they will provide interventions and referral routes for pupils with SEN and Disabilities and those children considered vulnerable.

Families providing information

We recognise that our pupils come from a wide variety of backgrounds, with differing attitudes and approaches to mental health difficulties. It is important that the families of pupils who have, or have had, mental health difficulties are encouraged to share this information with an appropriate member of staff. The Trust and Academy Schools need to know of the pupil's circumstances in order to provide proper support and ensure that reasonable adjustments can be made to enable them to learn and study effectively. Pupils and their families can share their relevant health information on the understanding that the information will be shared on a strictly need-to-know basis. In other words, only those who need to know will be informed.

The Trust and Academy Schools ask for a confidential reference from a pupil's previous school and specifically asks whether there are any pastoral or medical issues of which the Trust and Academy Schools should be aware in order to discharge our duty of care.

Respecting Confidentiality

A pupil with mental health difficulties is extremely unlikely to seek help unless they know the information they provide will be treated as confidential. Doctors, nurses, counsellors are all required to observe confidentiality in accordance with strict ethical codes. Whilst emphasising the responsibility to respect privacy, these codes also provide advice about the very rare circumstances when it would be appropriate to share information with third parties who need to know that there are specific concerns about a pupil, for example where there is a significant danger of a pupil harming themselves or a child protection and safeguarding concern.
